THE CHARMING SOUTH.

The news from Chile by the last mail is of the most startling importance for the Plate, and calculated to give still greater impetus to the development of the long neglected South. The Ferro Carril of Santiago, Chile, under date 3rd inst., publishes a letter from a leading and influential resident in the South of Chile, which says:—"I "write to tell you that the best and "most industrious of our population is "crossing over to the Argentine side of "the Cordillera, through a pass over "the Andes near my land, already "300 families have crossed over to "establish themselves on the Eastern "slopes of the Cordillera, and in the "same latitude as Chillan. Through "the Antuco Pass, over 1000 families have also passed with the same "object, and even I am told that over "1500 families have crossed over "there to the Argentine plains, taking "with them their stock, carts, furniture "etc. The Argentine Commissary, who "resides on the other side with the Ar-"gentine army of occupation, receives "them all with open arms, and gives or "rents them at very low price whatever "lands they require."

Here then is a new departure! and in a quarter that no one expected; the whole 'Manzana' country, famed for its rich fertility and beautiful plains, will soon be settled on by Chilian estancieros, and very soon we shall have these Chilian farmers stretching out and settling in the Rio Negro valley; the Valcheta valley and on the Colorado districts, some of the richest in this republic, but forgotten and neglected by Argentine statesmen to the present. Already, as we had occasion to notice, a cattle trade with South Chile, through Junin de los Andes and the Bariloche Pass has sprung up, and troops of 'novillos' from Bahia Blanca, Tres Arroyos, Isla de Walker and other parts have been sent through the valley and across the mountains, to be sold in Chile.

The peopling and stocking of those vast Andine slopes, and by such experienced farmers as the Chilians, surpasses in importance every other news of the day, and points to the urgent necessity of both National and Provincial Governments connecting Patagones and Viedma with this city by railway, which is nothing more nor less than the extension of the Buenos Aires Great Southern Railway from Bahia Blanca to Carmen de Patagones.

The Chilian farmers in the Manzana country will evidently have the South of Chile for their market, but it must always be remembered that the rising town of Pueblo Roca at the head of the Rio Negro, and confluence of the Limay and Nauquen, is destined to be a place of very great importance, and its whole trade is with Viedma and Patagones.

Our readers must always remember that the far South is the Europe of the Plate, and no matter how rich and fertile may be the North, when the South takes a start, it will eclipse every thing known, seen or experienced in the Plate. Bahia Blanca is the first step, Patagones and Viedma will be the next, and Pueblo Roca and Junin de los Andes the third. To the present the Indians have held this beautiful country, beautiful in climate, scenery and productions, but the Indians are of the past as also the men who tolerated them, and there is no other Nation on the face of the globe to-day that holds at the disposal of the surplus population of Europe such a vast area of wheat producing, stock raising, grain growing territory as the Argentine Republic.

The crossing of these 1,800 Chilian agricultural families into Argentine plains means more for this country than our imagination soars to trace. We want the decks cleared, and the trains running from the Plaza Constitucion through to Patagones, and then the whole Public Debt of the Nation is liquidated by the Railway whistle in the enchanting Valley of the Rio Negro.

LATZINA ON CENSUS.

Mr. Latzina, the Chief of the Statistical Department, has just published a most interesting treatise on the science or art of Census-taking, and here and there intersperses his pages with remarks that disturb the authority of the Bible and ridicule many of the most accepted dogmas. He says that the population of the Israelites in the time of Moses was 3,154,000, and that to-day, spread over the whole earth, after the lapse of 35½ centuries, there are not six millions of Jews, which shows that the "book of books" was wrong where it says, "the sons of Israel will be as numerous as the grains of sand on the sea shore."

We, for our part, shall leave to others the task of refuting this very serious charge of the Argentine census commentator, reminding our clerical friends, that in arguing with this great Argentine statistician they must be prepared to combat some very new theories of his which call into question principles that we feel quite sure he would not willingly disturb. That our moral laws depend on our population, is a theory of Mr. Latzina's which we find it impossible to accept; but his general remarks as to the great utility of census-taking to all Governments and Administrations will be denied by none. Still, it seems to us that in census-taking, as in many other things in life, there may be an excess of zeal, and that for all practical purposes a census taken every ten years is quite enough, even for these new countries where population is increased by supplementary causes, which in the older nations of Europe are unknown.

Yao, the Emperor of China, 2238 B.C., took a census of his empire which exists to this day. In ancient Peru the Incas were most exact in their census. Herodotus says the Persians took their census by means of a corral made to the exact measure to hold 10,000 men, and this they filled and refilled until the whole population had passed through it. In Athens they were so particular in taking a census that it was death to give a false return. Servius Tullius took a Roman census 555 years B.C. for the sole object to make an equitable distribution of the management of public affairs. He erected altars to the gods in every district, and all the inhabitants had to kneel once a year before the altar of his domicile, and men, women and children had to deposit a little coin indicative of age and sex. Mr. Latzina says that it was due to the taking of a Roman census that St. Joseph had to go to Bethlehem from Nazareth with the Blessed Virgin, because he was of the family of David, and that the population of the Roman Empire given by that census was 104 millions.

In the middle ages everything, Mr. Latzina says, fell away, save religious fanaticism and the purely animal instincts and passions of humanity—a very sweeping assertion. Census there was none, neither does the author think was there any necessity for one.

In England, William the Conqueror stumbled on a census by starting the Doomsday Book, but in Venice a census was taken in 1338, and in Florence they guessed the population by a census of the bread consumed.

We shall skip Mr. Latzina's very severe remarks about Spain, and how for 300 years the population only increased 1,351,000 inhabitants. In 1724 he says a half-cracked Englishman published a work to prove that the population of the earth 340 years after the flood was 3,333,333,333, and we agree with Mr. Latzina in his assertion that this Englishman must have been a fool; but Montesquieu is no mean authority, and he says that the population of Gaul in the time of the Cæsars was 50 times that of France in his time.

Lord Macartney was, in Mr Latzina's opinion, another census fool; for he made his estimate of the population of China by the piles of salt he saw to meet the consumption for a year. He put China down for 350 millions. To make the English lord right, Mr. Latzina says that the pyramid of salt he saw must have been 502 metres long, 502 metres wide, and 5 metres high.

In the Salinas Ingleses, between the Colorado and Rio Negro, and at the back of the Bay of San Blas, there are salt piles of great magnitude and rock-salt hills over which bullock-carts can be driven.

In 1787 the United States passed a law ordering a census every ten years, and Europe soon followed the example. Since then it is plain sailing over the heads of the millions.

Of the total population of Europe 96 per cent. are Christians, and of 329 millions of inhabitants one-half are Roman Catholics.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

As we have already announced, the first Autumn Meeting held by the Jockey Club will take place at Palermo on Tuesday next, the 25th. Notwithstanding the substantial attractiveness of the programme, the entries show a remarkable falling-off, the causes of which it would be invidious to investigate too closely.

The marked favour which the public of this city always bestows on horse-racing, and the growing importance attached to the improvement of our breed of horses, ought to secure better fields; and we do not doubt that if the Jockey Club sets itself in earnest to attain this object it cannot fail to be successful.

Our turf is not only a popular institution with the great mass of the people, but it counts upon some munificent patrons, which must ever make it prosperous.

At the November meeting, to be held on the Lanus Race-course, our distinguished countryman, Mr E Casey, sets the noble example of offering the following three valuable prizes:—

PREMIO ULTIMA ESPERANZA

The Niger's Mails.

London, February 20.

Her Majesty, accompanied by Princess Beatrice, arrived at Windsor Castle yesterday from Osborne.

In the House of Lords last evening Earl Granville, in replying to a question from the Marquis of Salisbury respecting the proclamation of General Gordon, said he had full and perfect confidence in that officer, and having given him a very large discretion, the Government took the responsibility of everything he did. The Cattle Plague Bills of the Duke of Richmond and of the Government were read a second time; a stage passed also by the Law of Evidence Amendment Bill.

In the House of Commons the debate on the Vote of Censure was resumed by Mr. Ashmead-Bartlett, and was continued by Mr. Houldsworth, Mr. T. P. O'Connor, Mr. Bruce, Mr. Ecroyd, Mr. McCoan, Mr. Chaplin, and other members; Lord Hartington, to whom Sir Stafford Northcote replied, winding up the debate on the part of the Government. On a division the Vote of Censure was rejected by 311 against 262—majority for the Government, 49.

Mr. Gladstone yesterday received a deputation which comprised a large number of Scotch peers and nearly all the Scotch members of the House of Commons, who presented a memorial urging the creation of a Department of State for Scotland. The Premier, in reply, said the Government had pledged themselves to go forward, but they wanted information from those who led Scotch opinion in this matter. He would like to see the introduction of a Bill at an early date, but no good purpose would be served to lay it on the table if there was no real prospect of its passing. The Government would introduce the Bill at the first moment they saw their way to progress.

Our Special Correspondent at Souakim telegraphs that a man arrived there yesterday who with a companion had broken through the rebel lines round Tokar. He stated that the place has an abundant supply of food and water, but that the munitions are running short. In the last sortie, the garrison killed, he said, about 160 men and lost only two, a statement on which our Correspondent throws some doubt. The 60th Rifles and detachments of mounted infantry arrived at Souakim yesterday. The 42nd and another regiment sailed past to Trinkitat direct, where the whole army will assemble on Friday or Saturday at the latest. The advance upon Tokar is to begin almost immediately after. Our Correspondent is of opinion that the place can easily hold out until relief arrives, but thinks there is some doubt whether the rebels will oppose the march from Trinkitat. It is considered probable that Osman Digna may prefer to sweep down on Souakim when once it is left with its small garrison.

Yesterday was issued a Parliamentary paper, which will be found in another part of our impression, containing the instructions sent by the Adjutant-General to the General Commanding in Egypt, respecting the forces to be collected at Souakim.

A telegram from Cairo states that in compliance with the request of Sir Evelyn Baring, the British Government has decided to reinforce the army of occupation in Egypt.

We publish to-day a map of the Soudan, showing the scene of the proposed British operations.

Our New York Correspondent telegraphs that Prince Bismarck's conduct in returning the Lasker resolution has received the most contemptuous treatment from the Press. In Washington no one, except a single member of Congress, takes a serious view of the matter.

The polling for Northampton took place yesterday, and resulted in the return of Mr. Bradlaugh, who received 4,032 votes, a majority of 368 over Mr Richards. This is larger than any which Mr. Bradlaugh has secured at a bye contest in the present Parliament. Telegrams from Accrington, Hastings, Leicester, Plymouth, and other towns speak of the interest with which the result of the poll at Northampton was awaited, and of the cheers with which the intelligence of Mr. Bradlaugh's return was received.

A meeting of the Executive of the Brighton Liberal Association was held yesterday afternoon. No decision as to the candidature was arrived at, but a determination was expressed to oppose Mr. Marriott. Amongst the names of the gentlemen mentioned as being willing to stand as a Liberal candidate are the Right Honourable A. S. Ayrton and Sir A. Hobhouse.

Mr. Monk, M.P., yesterday presided over the annual meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, which was held at the Westminster Palace Hotel. Amongst the subjects discussed were the present depression of trade, the amendment of the law of partnership, the assimilation of commercial laws in the United Kingdom, and the proposed establishment of district courts. Mr. Norwood, M.P., was elected president for the ensuing year.

The second annual ball, in aid of the fund for defraying the cost of establishing the new Italian Hospital in London, which has recently been opened, was given last evening at Willis's Rooms, and was well attended.

The Duke of Hamilton's Eau de Vie won the Prince of Wales's Steeplechase at the Sandowu Park Club First Spring Meeting, and amongst the other results of the running were the following:—Selling Hurdle Race, Mr. T. Green's Court Minstrel; Sandown Open Hunters' Steeplechase, Mr. E. Jay's Kempsey; Cardinal's Handicap Hurdle Race, Mr. W. M Redfern's Vanderhum; Selling Steeplechase, Captain A de Vere Smith's Quadroon; Maiden Hunter's Hurdle Race, Mr. E. Grant's Sir Francis.

Mr. Justice Day, with a special jury, had yesterday before him the ease of Fearon v. the Earl of Aylesford. It was an action to recover arrears due under a deed of separation between Lord Aylesford and his wife. In the course of the proceedings it was stated that the Duke of Marlborough, who had been served with the subpœna, tore up the document and said he would not attend the court. Mr. Justice Day characterized this proceeding as monstrous, and adjourned the hearing for a week in order to give the Duke, who is now at Cannes, an opportunity of being present.

Mr. Justice Mathew, sitting without a jury, yesterday had before him a case in which the London School Board, as owners of the training ship Shaftesbury, sued a licensed pilot for damages to the extent of £75, in respect of injury done to that vessel in collision with the Messageries Maritime Company's steamer Indus, in the Thames. The plaintiffs alleged that the defendant gave a wrong order to the man at the helm, while the defendant maintained that he gave the right order, but the man at the helm mistook it, and did the reverse of what he intended. Judgment was given for the plaintiffs.

Alfred Comyns, a butler, was yesterday charged at the Marylebone Police-court with having offered himself as a servant to Lady Huntingtower on a false certificate of character. He was further charged with stealing several articles, her property. The prisoner was committed for trial.

There were 2,649 births and 1,528 deaths registered in London last week. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 160, and the deaths no fewer than 408, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate from all causes which had been 20.7 and 19.5 per 1,000 in the two preceding weeks, was 19.8. There were only two deaths from small-pox throughout the whole of the metropolis.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29.76 in. The mean temperature was 42.7 deg., and 3.8 deg. above the average in the corresponding week of 20 years. The mean showed an excess on each of the first five days of the week, but fell below the average on Friday and Saturday. The lowest night temperature was 32.5 deg. on Saturday, and the highest day temperature in the shade 57.6 deg. on Wednesday; the extreme range in the week was, therefore, 26.1 deg.

From April 1st to the 16th instant the Exchequer receipts amounted to £75,361,164, as compared with £75,673,349 in the corresponding period of last year. The expenditure has been £73,837,394. On Saturday last the balance in the Bank of England was £6,810,755,, and in the Bank of Ireland £1,078,185.

In the stock market yesterday prices of Egyptian and Turkish securities closed at a slight reduction, and American railway stocks receded ½ to 1½ dol.; but Peruvian were firm. The Sixes rose to 12⅜, ⅜, and the Fives to 10¼, ⅛. The other principal exceptions to the dulness were Mexican Railway stocks, which advanced 1½ per cent., and Consols, which rose to 101⅛, ⅝ for money, and to 101 ⅝, ¾.

MESSAGE FROM TOKAR.

REINFORCEMENTS FOR THE BRITISH ARMY IN EGYPT.

GENERAL GORDON'S PROCLAMATION.

Souakim, Tuesday, 7.40 p.m.

Two men who have broken through the rebel lines round Tokar arrived this afternoon. Being surprised by a party of rebels en route, they tore up the letter with which they had been entrusted by Makawi Effendi, commanding the garrison. One, broken with fatigue, has stopped at a spot eight miles distant. His companion says that Tokar has an abundant supply of food and water, but the munitions running short; that in the last sortie the garrison killed about 160 and lost only two, which, to say the least, suggests suspicions of the refugee's memory, or even his veracity. He adds that the rebels are quarrelling among themselves, especially with the sheikhs, who are accused of having appropriated most of the booty. The man even says that Osman Digna has taken the lion's share. This report is in contrast with Osman Digna's professed rule of poverty and self-sacrifice.

The 60th Rifles, under Colonel Ashburnham, and also detachments of mounted infantry, arrived to-day. The 42nd and another regiment sailed past this afternoon to Trinkitat direct, where Admiral Hewett forms the whole army, which will assemble on Friday or Saturday at latest. The advance upon Tokar is to begin almost immediately after. Doubtless Tokar can easily hold out until relief arrives. Our success is equally certain; in fact, there is some doubt whether the rebels will oppose the march from Trinkitat. It is considered probable that Osman Digna may prefer sweeping down upon Souakim when once we leave it, with its small garrison.

General Graham arrives on Thursday.

Spies this morning confirm the previous news of the departure of the rebels from the neighbourhood.

To-day the 10th Hussars took over the horses of the Egyptian cavalry, who will be despatched home with the utmost expedition.

Major Giles, who has commanded the Turkish cavalry, has volunteered for the 10th. It is also understood that Colonel Fitzroy Hay and Major Graham accompany Baker Pacha to Tokar. The capacity in which Baker Pacha goes is uncertain.

It is curious to remark the sympathy which the British officers and men generally profess for the rebels, whom they are about to do their utmost to blow to pieces.

Cairo, Tuesday Night;

The Duke of Cornwall's light infantry regiment arrived from Alexandria to-day, and is quartered in the citadel.

Messrs. Cook and Son are instructed to have steamers in readiness to convey two regiments to Assouan.

Souakim, Feb. 19, 7 a.m.

Two hundred of the garrison of Tokar have made a sortie and attacked the enemy, killing and wounding several, and capturing a number of cattle and several camels.

Souakim, Feb. 19, 5 p.m.

The Peninsular and Oriental Company's steamship Bokhara, which entered the Suez Canal on Friday morning, the 15th inst., and embarked at Suez the 3rd Battalion King's Royal Rifles and 50 mounted infantry, has made a very rapid passage and arrived here to at 1 p.m. to-day. Her troops were immediately disembarked. The same company's steamship Thibet, which left Suez yesterday with the 1st Battalion of Gordon Highlanders, is expected here in the course of to-morrow.

Cairo, Feb. 19.

In compliance with the request of Sir Evelyn Baring, the British Government has decided to reinforce the army of occupation. The Peninsular and Oriental Company's steamship Poonah will accordingly leave Malta for Egypt with 1st Battalion of the South Staffordshire Regiment and a battery of garrison artillery. The latter will be converted into a mountain battery. Another battalion is preparing to follow from Gibraltar.

News from Khartoum fully confirms the previous reports concerning General Gordon's proclamation. It is declared on good authority that no intention exists of disbanding the Egyptian army, but the second brigade consisting of battalions commanded by native officers, will be gradually replaced by a corps of Turks and Albanians.

A well-accredited report is current that General Stephenson has proposed thant an English regiment shall proceed to Assouan, together with one of the Egyptian battalions officered by Englishmen. The distribution of the British forces in Egypt while the operations in the direction of Souakim last would then be as follows:—At Cairo, four infantry battalions and one garrison and two field batteries; at Alexandria, half a battalion of infantry, a garrison battery, and a force of marines and seamen; at Port Said, a detachment of marines; and, finally, a battalion at Assouan.

A despatch received to-night from Souakim reports that the troopship Orontes, with part of the expeditionary force on board, has gone on to Trinkitat. 600 men have been landed from the Peninsular and Oriental Company's steamer Bokhara.

LATEST FROM BRAZIL.

Rio de Janeiro, March 9th

Conselheiro Antonio Joaquim Rodrigues Junior-Minister of War, resigned on the 1st, and the portfolio has been taken charge of by the Minister of Agriculture until the meeting of the General Assembly.

The Government has appointed a commission composed of Baron de Penedo, president, Dr Joaquim Nabuco de Araujo and Baron de Theresopolis, to represent Brazil at the International Exhibition of hygiene and education to be held in London next May. The two first are to compose the section of education and the last that of hygiene.

In the Trade Mark question raised by Messrs Meuron & Co., owners of the Area Preto factory of snuff in Bahia, in regard to alleged infringement of their trade mark of 'Rapé Area Preta' by Messrs Moreira & Cunha, who sold a 'Rape Area Parda,' made up in packages of similar size and appearance, with similar labels having the same monograph M.C. and differing in little more than the word "Parda," instead of "Preta," H.M. the Emperor, on advice of the Empire Section of the Council of State, has decided that infringement was made, that the Junta Commercial of Bahia must cancel the registration of the trade mark of Messrs Moreira & Cunha, and that no trade mark should be admitted to registration which might confuse or deceive a purchaser in regard to an already registered trade mark.

On the 3rd inst., on the arrival of the Tamar, a boat with eight 3rd class passengers, who had contrived to descend before the vessel had come to rest, in attempting to round her got struck by the screw as the steamer moved astern. The boatman and five passengers were saved, one of the former badly hurt with a fractured illiac, and having lost 40 sovereigns and some luggage. One of the drowned men is said to have clung to the screw and to have been cut to pieces.

On the 4th their letters of emancipation were delivered to 104 of the 117 slaves who assisted the authorities when 450 other prisoners rose on the 15th of November last in the House of Detention and attempted to break out of jail. The remainder will be freed so soon as necessary suits have been concluded.

The sanitary officer of Rio has reported to the Minister of Empire that the only cases of yellow fever that have occurred this summer among the shipping have been on board vessels stationed at the east of the bay.

Yellow fever has continued in about the position it had assumed in the latter part of February, the mortuary returns from the 26th ult. to March 4 averaging about five deaths per diem from yellow fever, including those at Jurujuba.

The Brazilian war vessels instructed to search for it, were unable to discover any sign of the Santa Maria rock, one flush with the water, which 1st Lieutenant Colatino Marques de Souza maintains the existence of 57 miles southeast of the Rio Grande do Sul bar.

The breakdown of the Recife to S. Vicente cable on the 3d has interrupted direct telegrams with Europe, but on the 5th the restoration of communication on the West Coast enabled telegraphic news to come by the United States.

In February the custom house of Rio collected from imports and exports the sum of $2,324;960, against $2,975:550 in February 1883, viz: from imports $2,766:934, against $2,556:593, and from exports $558:026, against $418:957. The coffee exported amounted to 265,514 sacks.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent).

Paris, Feb. 18.

"For I am nothing if not critical," says Iago. A patriotic journal, not much known to fame, might state, I am nothing if not "original;" it claims to have fathomed the 'subjectiveness" of the mind of "perfide Albion;" as usual she has been deceiving every one respecting Egypt. The English Cabinet has simply been playing a machiavelian game; it intentionally remained in the back part of the stage, putting forward the Egyptians, as Ministers, functionaries and soldiers, the better to show up their incapacities; and, when fully played out, John Bull comes to the front, makes a little speech to the powers, and the world; "Gentlemen, you have seen how thoroughly rotten everything native is in Egypt; we have given the country all the rope desirable; it is now between a break down and a wreck; the moment is come to brush aside the puppets, to finish with organised hypocrisies; so we will now take over the management of the country for our own account—it may be for years or it may be for ever; like Mac Mahon, we are here, and we will remain; thus secure of our grip, we have conceded to M. de Lesseps his personal direction of the Suez Canal, having it in our power to use the route as we please, when it is our interest to do so. We will fix matters up with the Mahdi; will make him a Stadtholder of all the tribes he can weld together in the Soudan; we will construct railways under his ægis, and in time, when he shall post on Al Borak to rejoin Mahomed in the seventh heaven, we shall succeed him as Stadtholder, and so control the trade and commerce of Central Africa."

Be these day dreams, or Bismarck calculations, everyone, save the Chauvinists of pure blood, are glad to see England forced to put an end to her sham role in Egypt, and manfully grapple with the difficulties of which she has undertaken the responsibilities.

It was only a few days ago the ministerial journals were congratulating France at having again become Fortune's favorite. "Le Paris" notably boasted the country was not like Austria, a prey to Socialists, or as Germany, the victim of, say the seven capital sins. Italy was commiserated with; as for England, her sun was set, though such never sets on her dominions as was said of the Empire of Charles V. Algeria could vie with Australia, and as for Tunisia, it never knew such tranquillity—thanks to a 'corps d'armeé,' and its material prosperity was A.I. Tonquin was about becoming a little heaven below, the taking of Son Tay eclipsed Tel-el-Kebir—what must Bacninh then be; all French colonial enterprises have succeeded, while those of England—still harping on my daughter were tantamount to Beau Brummel's cravats etc. Again, the day that telegrams were published that all was serene at Tonkin, a wire arrives from the Bishop of that diocese, stating some 260 Christians were massacred, and imploring help, like Sinkat and Tokar, when there is no help. The "Delta" instead of being cleared of Black Flags, appears to be as France in 1793, in a reign of Tenor. Unhappily there is no impartial, foreign, special correspondent to tell us how matters are in Tonquin.

When Bacninh falls, as in due course it must, France intends, should China become ugly, to bombard some of her littoral territory—enough extensive to enable a choice to be made. It is more likely the French will push from Bacninh through the big wall, into China proper, as their objective is to help themselves to an empire out of the Flowery Land. And if they only allow all nations to trade in the new take, on the same conditions as themselves, Europe will shut her eyes as to the ways and means.

The new law on emblems will put an end to any manifestoes from pretenders, and terminate cries for, 'Vive le roi!' or 'Vive l' Empereur!' There is no reason why the Republic ought not to protect itself as well as a monarchy. It would be better could either form of Government do without exceptional laws. M. Rouher's death has been seized as the occasion for reading homilies to the Republic. Now the nation displays no falling off in attachment to the principle of self-government which that règime embodies, and till then it is loss of time studying probabilities. M. Rouher looked forward to the coming of some "happy soldier," to sweep away the Republic. That happy soldier would be only possible in case France staked her fortune on a war with Germany, and won. Much as the French detest Germany, they will never attack her single-handed, although France can mobilise one million of men in a week, and two millions more in a month.

Could France count upon an alliance, for better for worse, with Italy, the conditions might be changed. For her, Italy is the key-stone in the Triple-alliance, to detach here therefrom, France employs all her seductive arts. But Bismarck has bid higher for Italian love, and there is never anything platonic in his wooing. Italy has an Alsace of her own, in Nice, counts upon the return of Corsica to the fold, and Tunisia is her rosemary for remembrance. The bug-bear is held out to Italy, that when Austria takes Salonica, the Mediterranean will be an Austro-German lake, and the Suez Canal lost to England. In all these kind of questions the cardinal fact is overlooked, that if the enemy's ships do not come out of their shelter-harbors, they can do no harm; Cronstadt during the Crimean war for example. The uncertain factor is, that once out, they may not be able to get home again.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Niger's mails were not delivered yesterday as early as editors, bankers and merchants could wish, but this is such an extremely old story that any change for the better would, for all we know, be unwelcome in some quarters. this beautiful Plate is such a very queerish place. The news by the Niger is not hot enough to set the Plate on fire. One telegram says that Chinese Gordon has been proclaimed Prophet by the Soudanese! Nothing that could possibly happen to this extraordinary man would surprise us; not even if he were proclaimed King of Ireland, and a capital King he would make. Egypt is the sole topic in England, and will be until our Scotch countrymen the two Gs—Gordon and Graham—polish off the Mahdi with gold or Gatlings, or both judiciously mixed, which is probably what is being now done.

There was a very respectable blaze on Tuesday night in Mr Garcia's well-known "Confiteria" at the corner of Piedad and Esmeralda, caused by an overworked potboy leaving his candle lighting when he retired to rest, to awake in a short time and find his bed, himself, and his room on fire. He rushed out yelling and blazing, and the neighbours rushed in and put him out, then turning their attention to doing the same for the fire, by throwing water on it from the roof of the Bonne Soupe tavern next door. The Bomberos soon arrived, and in 20 minutes all was over. One Bombero was nearly falling through the roof while handling the hose, but Commander Calasa caught him by the shirt collar and saved him. Most of the 'fixings,' tarts, plum-cakes, sandwiches, and drinkables of all kinds were injured while being removed to the Hotel de France over the way. The place was insured in the Queen Office, for which Messrs Moore & Tudor are the agents, and Mr Garcia's claim was paid yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. If this is not the way to do first-class insurance business, then we know not what is.

The hopes that the Colon Theatre shareholders cherished of squeezing seventeen millions of paper dollars out of the Municipality for the building have been dashed to little bits. The arbitrators declare that the full value of the theatre is $5,909,224 ⅞.

Governor Rocha returned from his trip to Pilar on Tuesday night. H.E, and party first went to Moron, and then drove to Bella Vista, where a magnificent lunch awaited them. After lunch, while they were looking about the environs, the distinguished party were caught in the storm, the flags were blown down, and old Harry played with everything. Next morning the Governor went to Pilar, and himself assisted in selecting the ground for the new railway, after which the Governor returned to Moreno and took the train for town. The mail has brought news that Mr Gladstone has been invited to New Zealand by some wealthy estancieros there. Some of our Nabobs here in the same line might take the hint, especially those who have fine trees in their 'montes.' The G. O. M. always carries his own axe with him. We wonder if Gladstone ever bestows a thought on the River Plate. If we could get him to pay us a visit, he would be worth to the country ten thousand poets like Amicis, or all the poets that ever were born or buried.

There was a scare in a Western Railway train on Tuesday owing to the sudden and premature death of two horses on the line. The train bumped over their lacerated remains, but did not leave the track.

There is a great row going on now about the radii of the markets. This same radius of the markets is an unmutigated nuisance, an infringement on the public rights, and ought to be abolished. Freedom of industry is a mere sham in this city.

Oh! The Provincial Engineers' Department has fined the Ensenada Railway $150,000 ⅞ for the accident the other day. This is enough to bring tears to the eyes of the shareholders perhaps it's not true. The evening papers give the news, but who can believe an evening paper?

A JUST COMPLAINT.

Buenos Aires, March 18, 1884.

To the Editor of the Standard.

Sir,

I have lived two years in Calle Garay, between Bolivar and Defensa. I have paid every month 15 m/c municipal taxes—10 m/c for basura and 5 m/c for street light. There is only one lamp in the block, and 28 houses, each of which pay 5 m/c equal to 140 m/c per month or 1680 m/c per annum for one wretched gas light; also, each pays 10 m/c per month—280 m/c or 3360 m/c per annum for a cart to pass on the average every other day to take away rubbish, a barrow full from the whole block. The street during the whole of that time has never been swept and only once repaired, but this day (March 18th) a municipal collector came to collect the taxes, to which was added 12 m/c for sweeping the streets. Of course I indignantly refused to pay it, but offered to pay the old 15 m/c, but not 27 m/c monthly tax on a rental of 800 m/c. Now, I want to know whether an action for attempt to obtain money under false pretences would not lie against the Municipality. In my thinking it is almost a case for the Criminal Judge, but I should like to hear the opinion of some public-spirited expert on the matter.

I am, Sir,

Yours etc,

Citizen.

Mr. Bensuzan is the proper party to answer the above letter, and as all the residents refuse to pay the increased tax it is probable that the collector of taxes will find much trouble in the parish.—[Ed. Standard].

Dear Sirs,

I have much pleasure in stating that I cured all my flocks this season with the "Golden Leaf Extract" and found the result highly satisfactory, and in future do not intend to use any other dip.

After first using the "Golden Leaf," I found it such a perfect cure for Scab that I recommended it to several of my neighbours who have all proved it equally good.

Yours truly

ON 'CHANGE.

March 19th, 1884

Cedulas A	100
Cedulas E	88
National Bank Shares....	125½

Cedulas were so scarce on 'Change to-day that the brokers ask what has become of the stock, not a single sale of Series E for the end of the month, which is a very rare occurrence, and as for Series F the stock was as scarce as sterling exchange on London. Bank Shares jumped up to 126½ for the end of the month, and the parent of all this improvement was good news from London, we suppose about the loans.

The French mails were delivered today. The River Plate continues to attract great notice in Europe, and a friend writes us that very many parties are going out to see a country about which there is now so much notice. One well-known party has received letters from London with a view to purchasing land here, and what is strange to say, for account of a person who holds large landed property in Texas and other parts of the U. States.

After a prolonged arbitration suit between the shareholders of Colon and the Municipality the case has been decided by the calling in of a third arbitrator; the sum awarded to the shareholders is but 5,909,224 $, the amount claimed was 17 millions, which is a very serious reduction, but the judgment is final, the arbitrators fees are 6,000 m/n and the umpire 3,000 m/n, which seems to us very high. Mr. White, one of the arbitrators, has ceded his fee to the Municipality.

Exchange appears to be at a dead lock, nothing whatever doing save at the Provincial Bank, but brokers think on 22nd the market will open for the French mail, still it seems to us that drawers are holding back, throwing the weight of the market on the Bank. The private banks are only drawing for their customers and under Provincial Bank rates. How much longer the exchange market can hold out as it is, will depend upon the movement of produce, as exports must draw for the French mail and takers well know it.

The following were the sales at the ring during official hours:—

Cedulas—
For cash A 2,000 at 100
For March 20th A 6,000 at 100½
For March 31st A 10,000 at 100⅝
For cash E 11,200 at 88
Sales, 29,200

National Bank Shares—
For cash 50 at 125⅝
For March 31st 750 at 126¼-⅜-½-⅝-¾
For April 30th 200 at 128
Sales, 1,000

Argentine Gas Shares—
For April 6th 50 (d) at $1,150

The news from London by the French mail is favorable for Argentine stocks, Argent. sixes 1868 are at 2½ prem; Hard Dollars 89 x d; Western Railway Debent. 106½. The great scandal about the enormous failure of the London brokers Thomas & Co still affects the market, and the Daily News of 20th Feb. publishes the following, which will be read with interest in this market:—

"Consternation has to-day been created in quarters interested in loans on the security of bank transfers by the report in our last issue of the bankruptcy proceedings re P. W. Thomas and Sons. The solicitor in the case said that "stocks and shares amounting to upwards of £70,000 were standing in the name of one or the other bankrupt, and this amount would, in his opinion and in that of other legal gentlemen, become available for the unsecured creditors under the disputed-ownership clause of the Bankruptcy Act. It would pass to the creditors, and not to those persons who were holding "blank transfers." Various stock-brokers and others who held these uncompleted transfers as vouchers for debts were under the impression that they ranked as secured creditors, but doubt is thus thrown on their claims. On inquiry in well-informed quarters we find that circumstances have a great deal to do with determining the value of an uncompleted security, and the present circumstances are complicated by the fact that by various devices Blakeway had obtained money over and over again upon the same security. For instance, a railway company having granted him a new certificate on his assurance and guarantee that the old one was lost may suffer loss from the fraud, money having been raised on both the new and the old certificates. The general impression has been that, as with loans on an equitable mortgage, the security of a blank transfer is good against creditors; but in most cases, we are informed, due care and diligence are enjoined on the lender, who should give notice to the company that he possesses a transfer of a certain portion of the company's stock. The question is, however, so complicated, and the risks so varied, that a salutary check will henceforth be placed upon the business of lending on the security, or supposed security, of blank transfers. A legal authority insists that the real question in the present case is one of ownership; and informs us that if the custom of the Stock Exchange can be shown to be for brokers to hold security in the way of business, the £70,000, above-mentioned may after all prove to be the property of special creditors and not part of the bankrupt's own assets, although Thomas and Sons were the reputed owners. Clause 44 of the new Bankruptcy Act contains some words which are the subject of much dispute in this connection, and an authoritative settlement would be generally welcome."

The mails bring good news for the frozen mutton trade. We note in the report of the London Meat Market, February 20th, the following:—

"Frozen Mutton steady, from 3s. to 4s. per 8 lbs."

After a delightful trip through the South camps, our New Zealand guests have all arrived back in town. We should very much like to know their ideas about our camps, our sheep, and our mode of sheepfarming. They can give us all good advice, and teach us lessons—that is, if our friends outside are not altogether too independent to learn from their teaching. We hope they will settle in the Plate and show us the way to export clean wool and Leadenhall Market capones.

In the north camps the rains have been tremendous, and all the farmers are in the best spirits. People who were thinking of selling their cows are now in no hurry to do so

We call attention to the important auction of fine stock at Santa Rita. Buyers can go to the auction by steamer. See Bullrich.

The auction of Mr. Beckhaus's furniture was remarkable for the high prices obtained; the curtains sold for 9,000, and everything fetched the highest of High Life prices.

Stocks at afterhours continued firm but not much animation, Cedulas 88½ buyers; Bank Shares 126½ buyers; close on 5 o'clock a fashionable broker entered and bought freely and the evening closed with a very brilliant halo around the Stock Exchange ring.

Discounts 7 to 7½ for first class paper.

National Bank loan rumours that business about to be arranged and Syndic remains with the whole of the stock.

Frontier lands, some lots offering for the last 15 days in the market have been sold, Mr Passmann broker.

Advices from Paris give the following—

"Little surprise has been felt at the disappearance this week of the head of the firm John Arthur & Co., bankers and general agents. For a long time past the house was known to be embarrassed, and it had absolutely no credit on the Paris market. It, however, once did a large business among the English residents here, who are the principal losers. A Paris journal states that the liabilities amount to £130,000, and that Mr Arthur realised all the assets, and absconded with £35,000. This latter statement is very improbable, for the till must have been empty for some time."

The Glamorganshire Banking Co., owing to tremendous losses, has been obliged to write off its £10 shares to £5.

We have received by the mail some papers on the frozen meat business, which we shall publish at our leisure.

From the Plaza Once we have the following:—

72 waggons of produce arrived.
The arrivals to-day were:—
4,000 @ wool
1,538 sacks of wheat
166 do maize
11,172 bags flour
60 bags linseed
182 bags turnip
121 bales hay
And much of other produce.
Prices of produce in general continue flat.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The Kermesse Concert in the National Theatre on Tuesday night was a great success. The place was crammed with 'Alta Vida,' and the music was excellent. Miss Curutchet brought down the house by her performance on the piano, and Mr Paul's fine baritone voice reminded us of Graziani. Messrs Moreno and Curutchet were also greatly applauded, and well deserved it.

The D'Amicis Reception Committee met on Tuesday and arranged everything—a reception at Montevideo, another on the mole here, his hotel bill paid (just as King Alvear proposed) and, in return, the distinguished poet to give a series of conferences to his admirers, whose name appears to be legion.

In our report of the St. Patrick's Dinner there was an important omission. Mr Portela, of the Nacion, proposed in most eloquent terms the health of Dean Dillon, regretting his absence from the feast, and referring to his great and deserved popularity not only amongst his own countrymen but all classes of Argentines, winding up with a fervent expression of hope for his speedy and complete recovery. The toast was drunk with an enthusiasm that fully bore out Mr Portela's words.

The Patria Argentina bears us out in our oft-repeated conviction that the progress of the country is too much for even our best railways. The Central Argentine and Andine are floored for want of waggons, and the increased traffic on all the others has knocked up their badly ballasted permanent ways, leading to "off the lines," smashes, delays and all the ills the Iron Horse is heir to. A general reform is, in our colleague's opinion, badly required. Dont forget the spark-catchers.

The Dia of La Plata gives unpleasant news for Provincial Government men. Not one of the wooden houses can be put up as yet, as the wooden foundations have not arrived, except those for the Governor's chalet. The unhappy thought of getting a hold of the post D'Amicis has occurred to the La Platenses, and the poor man will be victimised and lionised in the new capital. Coming fresh from the land of heaven-born architects, it will be interesting to learn his opinion of La Plata architecture, if he survive his visit to the place.

Gayarre, the king of tenors, has knocked all his "do de pecho" rivals into a cocked hat by giving a chest re flat in Paris. So extraordinary was the excitement, that every lady in the house rose to wave her handkerchief or throw her bouquet at the great tenor. It was a musical critic in our office who first, and alone, predicted that Gayarre would be a very great singer, when the now great artist was here some years ago, and when our contemporaries thought he was only a good second rate tenor. If he ever come here again, which is not likely, we'll claim a free box for the whole 'temporada,' for our accurate forecast of his brilliant career.

The squall on Monday evening smashed a lot of fashionable plate-glass in Calle Florida and other streets.

Dining one day at a party in Bath, Quin uttered something which caused a general murmur of delight. A nobleman present, who was not illustrious for the brilliancy of his ideas, exclaimed "What a pity 'tis, Quin, my boy, that a clever fellow like you should be a player!" Quin fixed and flashed his eye upon the person, with the reply: "What would your lordship have me be—a lord?"
